

A Bit About Us

(and why we are doing this)

Hi. I am Lolly, and It has been my lifelong vocation to share the benefits of Yoga with others.

I feel privileged to have experienced many years of practising Ashtanga Yoga. Initially at The Life Centre in Kensington with some incredible gurus, and then studying with Buddhist Monks at Sivananda.

Having wanted to continue to share my passion, throughout the Covid pandemic I offered inspirational online sessions, and am proud to have inspired many new people to experience “real yoga”. A truly personal journey for each participant; and one with compelling results!

It has long been my ambition to create the perfect yoga sanctuary, where I could design and run my own yoga retreats. Having participated in several retreats around the world, I have found that there is often something lacking. Perhaps it is the importance of breath work, or the access to one-to-one personal improvements and adjustments to the internal and external benefit of a posture. It could be understanding, and acknowledging, any personal issues or injuries. Particularly, I have often lamented the food offered. I know that meals that are nutritious and holistic, can at the same time be absolutely delicious!

My partner Sean is a successful Olympic and World Champion athlete. Having retired from championship sport, he is a qualified Sports Therapist (LSSM.)

Sean and myself were lucky enough to find this special place in the form of our peaceful and beautiful château, La Galiserie. As soon as we saw it, we knew it could be transformed into the perfect retreat and location to create the yoga sanctuary I envisaged.

Château La Galiserie in Serigny has it all and we are thrilled to announce that we shall be hosting five 7-day yoga retreats during summer 2025.

Together with a team of like minded individuals, Sean and I have created and developed a unique 7-day retreat, which enables participants to work through the seven chakras, from root chakra (Muladhara), to crown chakra (Sahasrara).

These will be inclusive yoga retreats that are the perfect introduction if you are beginning your yoga journey. But as they are small groups, and very personal, they can also be tailored for a deeper and more intense experience for seasoned practitioners.

The Yoga - Body and Soul

After a morning energy bomb/shot, you will begin each day with an hour and a half group yoga session, on our specially designed yoga platform, embracing the views, and breathing in the gorgeous natural surroundings.

In the late afternoon, there will be a second hour and a half session. This will be a YIN class, details will follow the morning session.

There's plenty of relaxation time in between breakfast, lunch, and dinner to discuss all things yoga, luxuriate around the pool, take a swim and/or sunbathe. Also, if you choose to, you can enjoy a complimentary 20-minute back massage by our fully trained masseuse. We also offer a range of additional treatments that can be booked either with our massage therapist, or our sports therapist.

The Food - Body and Heart

The food throughout your stay will be prepared by superb local artisan chefs, who will cater for all your dietary requirements.

Each morning, after your initial yoga session, you will have a wholesome continental breakfast with indulgent energy snacks on the sun terrace. Naturally, this will be accompanied by lively discussion with your hosts and fellow participants.

After some free time, there will be a lavish lunch by the pool.

Each evening, dinner will be enjoyed on our fabulous sun terrace. Our artisan chefs will create a luxurious experience utilising fabulous local ingredients, and drawing from their skills, which have been perfected in kitchens across the world (expect the unexpected).

During your stay with us, you will be taken to L'Orangerie, which is situated in the nearby historic and captivating town of Richelieu. An outstanding gourmet experience by local chef, Hennie Froeling. Showcasing the art of fine dining, embracing the full Chakra colour wheel. The chef's table, taken to new heights!

Your last evening with us at the château will be "White Night" - a celebration of your stay, with a selection of flavourful and wholesome dishes, with some surprises along the way!
